3 EASY STEPS TO A PERFECT FINISH

1. Perfect Tools

2. Proper Application

3. Simple Clean-Up

To achieve an extra high-gloss finish with no brush marks, it's important to apply this product with the right kind of brush. Look for one with a label that says "100% China bristle" or "nylon/polyester blend."

Oil-based paints traditionally have more odor than latex-based paints. Work in a well-ventilated area. The odor will fade significantly in 12 hours, but it may take about 30 days to disappear completely.

Please follow the application instructions on the back of the can label for the best possible results. It is normal for the painted surface to remain tacky for a while. It will dry to the touch in 4 – 6 hours at 77° Fahrenheit. You can recoat after it dries overnight. Do not close painted doors for at least 8 hours.

Brushes and rollers will clean up easily with mineral spirits or paint thinner. Follow the manufacturer's directions for use.
